

Gene Sullivan – 1991

Gene Sullivan served as the head golf professional at Wildwood Country Club for over 37 years. At 15, he began work as the golf shop assistant to Kentucky Golf Hall of Fame member Bobby Craigs at Audubon Country Club, and later worked as an assistant at Seneca Golf Course under Joe Lally, Sr., also a member of the Kentucky Golf Hall of Fame. Throughout his career, he was involved in the development and promotion of golf in Louisville and Kentucky, and was very active in promoting golf to juniors. He was named Kentucky PGA Golf Professional of the Year in 1966 and 1983.
